

BUFFALO MILLIONAIRES.

The "Tribune's" List of Wealthy Men and Women of the Queen City.

According to the New York Tribune, there are 4,000 millionaires in this country. Yesterday it published the Buffalo list, as follows:

Mrs. Truman G. Avery—Inherited a large fortune from her father, Stephen G. Austin, who made his money in real estate, loans, etc.
Philip Becker—Grocery business and real estate.

Millis W. Barse—Inherited from his father, who made it in the oil regions mostly. He is himself a banker.

*John Biocher—Manufacturing leather and boots and shoes.

Mrs. L. B. Burr—Inherited a fortune from an English relative.

Est. Thomas Brown.
Jacob Doid—Pork-packing in Kansas City, etc.

*Robert L. Fryer (of Gratwick & Fryer)—Saw-mills, lumber and purchase of low-priced pine lands.

George S. Field—Bridge-building.

*W. H. Gratwick (of Gratwick & Fryer)—Saw-mills, lumber and purchase of low-priced pine lands.

*C. W. Goodyear—Manufacturing lumber.

*C. J. Hamlin—Merchandising and manufacture of glucose.

*Nelson Holland—Lumber business and other enterprises.

*Sherman S. Jewett—Manufacturing stoves and ranges, and banking, and narrow-gauge railroads in the oil regions. Has other investments. He is president of the Bank of Buffalo.

*J. H. Lee (of Lee, Holland & Co.)—Partly inherited. Made in planing mill, the sale of lumber and real estate.

*Frank Lee (of Lee, Holland & Co.)—Partly inherited. Made in planing mill, the sale of lumber and real estate.

A. D. A. Miller (of Miller, Greiner & Co.)—Made in the wholesale grocery business and advance in the value of real estate.

*Pascal P. Pratt (of Pratt & Letchworth)—Made in manufacturing saddlery hardware in part, but also in suburban real estate which has increased in value. In several banks.

*Dr. Ray V. Pierce—Manufacture of proprietary medicines, and investments. President of Buffalo Loan, Trust and Safe Deposit Company.

*Francis H. Root (of Root & Keating, formerly of Jewett & Root)—First in manufacturing stoves and ranges, then in tanning and leather.

*B. C. Rumsey—Tanning, leather and real estate.

*D. P. Rumsey—Tanning, leather and real estate.

Jewett M. Richmond—Dealing in grain, real estate and banking.

Henry A. Richmond—From his father, who made a fortune in railroads and other enterprises. He is himself engaged in lithographing.

Sidney Shepard—Merchandising, hardware and dealing in stocks.

*J. F. Schoellkopf—First in tanning, then in brewing, and also in chemical works and milling.

James M. Smith—Law practice and real estate.

*Jacob Scheu—Brewing and real estate.

*Estate Jonathan Scoville—Car wheel manufacturing and outside investments.

John Satterfield, (of H. L. Taylor & Co.)—Oil producing.

Mrs. Robert Squires.—from her father, William G. Fargo. Made in express business.

Eibridge G. Spaulding—Banking in part, but largely in real estate and other investments. President of the Farmers & Mechanics' National Bank.

Haskell L. Taylor (of H. L. Taylor & Co.)—Made in oil producing.

George Urban—Flour mill and real estate. Largely inherited from his father, George Urban, Sr.

George L. Williams.—From his father, the late Gibson T. Williams, who made a fortune in ship-chandlery business and tanning originally; but the bulk of it in real estate and banking.

C. H. Williams.—Capitalist.

John Wilkeson.—Grain elevator and real estate.

James P. White.—Inherited his fortune.

*Asterisks indicate fortunes alleged to have been made in industries fostered by a Protective tariff.